

LEGAL NOTICES

The operator of this website is:

CVS Mobile, d.d., Ljubljana
Ulica Gradnikove brigade 11
1000 Ljubljana
Slovenia

These websites provide general information about the CVS Mobile Company and its services.

Terms of Use

Accessing and viewing any part of the CVS Mobile website means that you agree with all restrictions and terms of use outlined herein. If you do not agree, please do not use this website. We recommend that you occasionally review the applicable Terms of Use, i.e. the provisions protecting privacy, as they are legally binding.

CVS Mobile operates, controls and updates these websites in Ljubljana. These websites are intended for international use. CVS Mobile does not warrant the accuracy of the data published on the websites in all countries and it does not guarantee that all services are available in all countries or in all forms and under the same conditions. When users access and use these websites, they must do so in accordance with their country's legislation.

All information and data on CVS Mobile's websites is only given for information and is not intended to establish legally binding relationships or enter such legal relationships, except where explicitly mentioned (e.g. the publication of official offers, brochures).

None of the information about the Company, its products and services or securities on the Company's websites represents its offer in a legal sense. The information present on the Company's website is meant as general information on the full range of the Company's services. This is why we want to emphasize that this data does not represent the offer itself, except if this is explicitly mentioned.

Reference to services on the CVS Mobile website does not mean that CVS Mobile actually markets the referred to service and/or that it offers it in the territory the website's viewer is interested in or in the territory in which the viewer accessed the website. The viewer must verify with CVS Mobile and/or its subsidiaries or representative offices abroad whether CVS Mobile is actually marketing the service the viewer is interested in and whether this service is offered for sale.

Disclaimer

Even though CVS Mobile has and will continue to edit the websites with special care to ensure accurate information and up-to-date data, it accepts no responsibility or liability whatsoever for its accuracy and integrity. CVS Mobile reserves the right to change the contents of these websites whenever and in whatever way, regardless of reason and with no prior notice.

All users use all of the published content at their own responsibility. Therefore CVS Mobile and any legal or natural persons who participated in the preparation and creation of these websites shall under no circumstances be liable for any damage which has resulted from accessing the information on these websites and using and/or the inability to use this information and/or any errors or faultiness in their content.

Links to Other Websites

These websites also contain the information of third persons and links to their websites. This has been noted wherever we have judged appropriate. However, CVS Mobile is not familiar with the contents of these third party websites and therefore does not assume any responsibility for their information.

Intellectual Property Rights

All information and images on CVS Mobile's websites are, within the framework of what is legally permissible, subject to copyright protection or another form of protection of intellectual property. The documents on these websites may be reproduced only for non-commercial purposes and for personal use, whereby all indicated warnings on copyright and other rights must remain preserved. It is prohibited to copy, transcribe, duplicate, change or otherwise disclose the information on these websites for commercial purposes without explicit written consent from CVS Mobile. Trademarks for goods and services appearing on these websites are CVS Mobile's registered trade marks or CVS Mobile has a right to their use.

PROTECTION OF PRIVACY

Compliance with Applicable Legislation

In accordance with the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 and other applicable personal data protection legislation, CVS Mobile devotes particular attention to the protection of the privacy of information given by the users of these websites and the personal data that the users supply to CVS Mobile. We will further acquaint you with the system of collection, storage, use and disclosure of personal data.

What personal data is collected through our website?

You are free to visit our website without indicating your personal data. You must disclose your personal data only if you are ordering our service or you want to contact CVS Mobile.

We collect personal data only when you send it to us yourself, for example, when you subscribe to our news, when you want to access certain content or when you want to participate in a prize game, when you fill out a form, a contact form or when you inquire about our services and in similar situations, in which you have decided to send us your data.

Beyond the personal data you send yourself, we also collect information through the use of cookies. This information can contain: the website you used to link to our website, the websites you visit from our website, the duration of your visit to our websites. The last three digits of your IP-address are immediately anonymised, which means we cannot identify you via your IP-address. We could potentially determine your identity with this information, but this is not something we do.

For what purposes do we process the data you send us through our websites?

We process the data that you send us or that we collect via cookies for the following purposes: for statistical purposes and demographic data and visitors' interests collection, but only in such a way that it is impossible to determine your identity; for detecting server problems and management of the websites; for supplying the goods and services that you have requested through our websites; for other purposes that you have requested or agreed to, unless otherwise required by law.

Do we forward your personal data to other companies?

Only the company managing the CVS Mobile websites has access to your personal data. We have a detailed agreement on the processing of personal data with them and can guarantee that it complies with all the measures put in place for the protection of personal data.

Where do we store the personal data you entrust to us through our websites?

Your personal data is stored on the servers of our contractual partners who ensure at least the equivalent level of protection as CVS Mobile. We will never send your data in any form to third parties, except to the company managing CVS Mobile's websites or if it is required by judicial authorities.

Cookies

A cookie is a small file which is installed on your device during your visit to the website and which the website that issued the cookie can recognise. The purpose of cookie use is to improve the website's performance and the user experience while viewing the website.

Some of the cookies we use are temporary, some remain stored on your device for a certain period of time, even after you leave our website. We use the temporary cookies to measure the number of viewers on our websites and the stored cookies to store contact data for later visits to our website so that you do not need to register again the next time. We also use stored cookies from other websites: the cookies from YouTube, which allow you to watch certain video content on our websites, advertising cookies and Google Analytics cookies, which help us determine how you move on our websites, which content you are interested in and what the duration of your visit was. This provides us with a basis for editing our websites' content and adapt it to the needs of our visitors.

The data collected via cookies is processed exclusively for statistical purposes and for the purposes of demographic data and visitors' interests collection, but only in such a way that it is impossible to determine your identity, for detecting server problems, website management and information on products.

Most browsers automatically accepts the use of cookies. You can always deny the use of cookies. If you want to deny the use of cookies on your device, you can change your browser's settings. You can find more information on denying the use of cookies at www.aboutcookies.org and about Google Analytics services at <https://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>.

Privacy Policy Changes on CVS Mobile websites

CVS Mobile reserves the right to change the privacy policy of its websites and we therefore advise that you regularly review it. If the privacy policy is changed fundamentally, we will publish a notification of changes on our website.

Security

CVS Mobile uses technical and organisational safety measures which protect your data from manipulation, loss, destruction and unauthorised access. Security is already incorporated in all systems and work processes regarding personal data filing systems, as we are very aware of its importance. We use the newest technical solutions in our work with personal data, which ensure the highest possible personal data storage and processing security (data encryption, data access policy, data access logging, etc.). The continuously supervised infrastructure protects the data against all threats, including viruses and other types of malware. We use systems and processes of threat detection, which help protect our services and provide a high final level of security.

Contact Us

If you experience problems, have questions or want to inspect, correct, block or erase your personal data, please contact us at info@cvb-mobile.com.

As the internet continuously develops, our legal notice will occasionally need to be amended. We reserve the right to these changes.
